

Down House

Charles Darwin lived and worked at Down House with his scientific researches culminating in the publication of the Origin of the Species in 1859.

The 18th Century House remains largely unaltered from those times and Roger Parker Associates were appointed to design and project manage the installation of a CCTV system to protect the invaluable scientific papers and artefacts exhibited.

The project was completed in early 2006 with the house remaining open to the Public for the duration of the contract.
